Have you heard of Nessie, the Loch Ness Monster? Loch Ness is a very large and deep lake in Scotland. Many people think a monster lives in it.

The first report of Nessie was back in the sixth century. A man called Columba reported seeing a monster in the water, but he told the monster to go away, and he was safe. “Go away!” “OK, if you say so.”

Then, in 1933, Nessie was seen again by George Spicer and his wife – she crossed the road in front of their car. “What a beautiful day for a picnic.” “Arghhh!”

The next year, a photo of Nessie was taken and it became very famous. It was taken by a doctor – but the photo turned out to be fake.

Since then, more people have seen Nessie. Some people have tried to take photos and videos, but Nessie is very shy and they can't take pictures of her.

People have also tried exploring the lake, but it is very deep and very dark. Some people just watched the lake. Other people used underwater cameras, microphones and sonar to scan the lake carefully.

People have even explored the lake in submarines. No one has found anything definite.

There are lots of possible explanations for what people have seen in Loch Ness. Maybe the monster is just a giant fish, a large bird or a tree. A few people even think it could be a type of dinosaur.

So, what do you think? Do you believe that Nessie, the Loch Ness Monster, really exists?

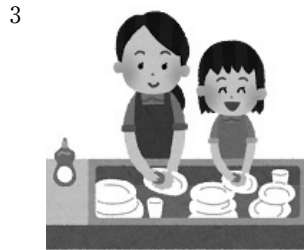

Arghhh : 「あー」(叫び声)    fake : にせ物    explore : 探索する sonar : 水中音波探知装置    scan : 調べる    submarines : 潜水艇 anything definite : 明確な何か    possible explanations : 可能性のある説明
